DALADIER MAY MEET HITLER AT GENEVA SOON

Premier Aware Chancellor's Speech Puts France Somewhat on Defensive

Debate in French Chamber To-morrow

Sharp Contest in Paris to Decide French Attitude at Geneva Expected

Canadian Press
Paris, May 18.—Premier Edouard Daladier and Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany may meet face to face at Geneva to talk over their troubles, friends of the Premier indicated to-day.

Officially the plan was without confirmation, but close associates of the Premier said it was being discussed and that they were urging it as the best means of clearing the atmosphere.

ON DEFENSIVE
M. Daladier, according to his friends, is fully aware France was put somewhat on the defensive by Chancellor Hitler's reply accepting President Roosevelt's disarmament proposals.

French acceptance of the Chancellor's good faith has been reflected in all ranks of officialdom, press and public. A sharp internal fight to determine the French attitude at Geneva is likely. The chamber will debate foreign affairs to-morrow.

Associated Press
Paris, May 18.—Edouard Herriot believes, on the basis of Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech, that Germany will claim equality on the sea after land equality.

"After the Treaty of Versailles," the former Premier said, "she (Germany) will attack the Washington convention."

"The fate of the American and British fleets and the French army will be one and the same," he said, "the French reaction, meanwhile, to the Chancellor's speech was represented as being that acts alone can prove the sincerity toward peace of the German people."

There were many promises in the Hitler speech, said Le Petit Journal, which "France only aspires to see realized."

All admit the consummate skill of the Chancellor, Le Journal, remarking that he had turned President Roosevelt's appeal to his advantage.

Mr. Herriot, frankly sceptical, insisted Hitler "again has affirmed Germany's resolve to remain."

HANNA FOR COMOX RIDING

Selected to Contest Constituency For Liberals at Campbell River Convention

Special to The Times
Courtenay, May 18.—L. A. Hanna, Port Alberni, was unanimously chosen as Liberal candidate for the Comox riding yesterday at a representative convention at Campbell River. George S. Pearson, Nanaimo, was the principal speaker. Sixty delegates were present. No other name was put forward.

Selection of Mr. Hanna to run in Comox opens the way for the nomination of Mr. Pearson for the Alberni-Nanaimo riding at to-morrow's convention at Port Alberni.

Delegates at National Convention of Party Cheer Sir George Paish When He Assails High Tariff Barriers Throughout World

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Scarborough, Eng., May 18.—"Great Britain and the United States," Sir George Paish, noted British economist, told delegates to the Liberal conference here to-day, "are driving the whole world into bankruptcy by the appalling policy of high tariffs, quotas and other damnable actions."

Sir George declared himself not only unrepentant but an aggressive free trader. "I no longer am prepared to defend," he explained as the delegates to the annual convention of the National Liberal Federation cheered. "I'm going to attack!"

The party on the defensive is not a free party. It is a protectionist party. I would not be in our government if I paid me $1,000,000.

WORLD PROBLEMS
"The government is driving the people into appalling distress," Sir George declared. He referred to President Roosevelt as doing great work in the United States. But the remedy for the American situation, did not lie in America, he said. It lay in the world.

If President Roosevelt would devote the whole of his thought and attention to taking the world out of the great distress and restoring it to prosperity by wise action, the United States would recover its prosperity, he declared.

Until President Roosevelt did that, he continued, it would be quite impossible for the United States to recover.

MISSIONARY WORK
"I want every one of you to go out as a missionary," Sir George added, "to tell the people the present policy of protection is leading to universal bankruptcy."

The conference had before it a draft of a resolution submitted by the executive committee, declaring for a (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

CONSTRUCTION TOTAL MOUNTS

Contracts Awarded in Canada Last Month Jumped Over $5,000,000

Loadings During April Higher Than Any in Last Six Months

An increase between March and April of over $3,000,000 in contracts awarded in Canada, and the greatest loadings since last November, are cited in a report received to-day from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics as indicating that, while Canada is still faced with many difficulties arising out of the economic depression, the worst is past.

Construction contract awards, which amounted to $6,600,000 in April, compared with $3,200,000 in March, the gain being much in excess of the normal seasonal expectation.

VANCOUVER WILL BE REPRESENTED

Vancouver, May 18.—Col. J. E. Leckie and a party of Vancouver veterans of the famous 10th Battalion, Canadian Scottish, will visit Victoria on Sunday for presentation of the colors to Christ Church Cathedral there.

The ceremony will take place on the eighteenth anniversary of the Battle of Festubert, in which the battalion lost three officers and sixty-eight men and had 206 wounded.

The present 10th Battalion will parade to the cathedral at 10:30 a.m. and the colors will be presented for safekeeping in the church.

GOLD STAKING BOOM SPREADS

Prospectors Rush to West Coast and Soke Hills to Mark Claims

Uncovering of Long Quartz-veins With Values Starts Influx on Island

The gold boom which has been sweeping through the Cariboo and Bridge River districts for the last few months, has now jumped to the island and broken out along the West Coast.

On each of her last few trips, the St. Princess Maguinnah has carried mining engineers and prospectors. They leave the boat at various points from Port Renfrew north. The stakings along the West Coast are being handled by the mining recorders at Alberni and Clayoquot.

The staking fever from there has spread inland and even as far south as Goldstream district claims are being staked.

Robert J. Stevenson, gold commissioner, explained to-day that this gold staking boom here is different from that along the Goldstream and Leech Rivers last year, which were placer stakings, while the present ones are lode.

At Kapor, the Hindu sawmill town on the Canadian National, a prospector recently opened and traced for four miles a gold-bearing quartz vein. This has resulted in the whole country around here being staked. Near Leech town, not far from the old placer workings, another prospector traced a gold-bearing quartz vein for 1,500 feet.

Large quantities of placer gold have been taken out of the Soke Hills streams during the last half century, but the source of these gold flakes in the sands and gravel has never been discovered. Now it is thought the source has been discovered in the gold-bearing quartz veins, uncovered below the old forest growth.

Half of the prospectors operating in the West Coast and Soke Hills fields are from the mainland. A number of others came across the Strait of Georgia from Vancouver to join in the hunt and stake claims.

EXCHANGE DOLLAR LOSES SLIGHTLY

Canadian Press
New York, May 18.—The Canadian dollar displayed fractional weakness after an early gain to-day on the foreign exchange market here. Closing quotations were 87 1/2 cents, down 1/2 cent from the previous close and 1/2 cent lower than its opening quotation.

The United States premium on Canadian funds finished at 14.77 per cent.

A pound sterling was weak throughout the session, closing off 2 1/2 cents at 93.95.

Exchange rates at noon to-day (yesterday's quotations in brackets as reported by the Canadian Press were: Pound sterling in Montreal, $4.48 1/2 (4.49); U.S. dollar in Montreal, $1.14 1/2 (1.14 1/2); Canadian dollar in Paris, 19.2 francs (19.18); U.S. dollar in Paris, 22.00 francs (22.1).

Members Addressed as "Dearly Beloved Brethren" by Man in Public Gallery Whose Remarks Surprise House; Tells Guards He Is Robert Wishart, of Ottawa, and They Let Him Go.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 18.—Suddenly rising from his seat in one of the public galleries, a man called on the House of Commons to-day to "repent." Probably for the first time in its history, the House was addressed in the terms "Dearly beloved brethren."

"I call upon you," shouted the man, while guards scrambled over chairs to reach him. "I call on you to repent and turn from your rebellious ways, for the Day of Judgment is at hand."

Two guards rushed the man from the gallery. He gave the name of Robert Wishart of Ottawa and was not detained.

LABOR LAUGHS AT CLAIMS FOR NEW MINISTER

Does Not Represent Organized Unions Say Victoria Trades and Labor Council Speakers

Dennies's Organization Seen As Small Anti-Union Group in Vancouver; Tolmie Seeks Other New Ministers

"A move to split the Labor vote and curtail it under the two wings of the Conservatives" was the manner in which the appointment of Hon. William M. Dennies, as Minister of Labor in the Tolmie Cabinet, was viewed at the Trades and Labor Council meeting yesterday evening. The meeting was unanimous in its opinion that the new official did not represent a majority of Labor through his affiliation with the all-Canadian Labor Congress of Canada, which body, it was declared, has not previously been recognized by the government in Canada.

Considerable interest was manifested in the action, V. R. Midgley commenting that it was the first time that a Labor representative had been taken from the ranks and made a cabinet minister.

JOINT PARTY TICKET URGED

Affiliation of Labor Candidates With C.C.F. Nominees Is Advocated

Trades Council Will Sponsor Election Meeting on June 15 to Decide Action

Whether or not the Victoria Trades and Labor Council will sponsor candidates in the forthcoming provincial election will be decided at a meeting of all locals to be held in the Labor Hall on Thursday, June 15. It was stated at a council meeting yesterday evening, when Rev. Robert Connell, on behalf of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, requested that a Labor candidate be nominated for the federation's ticket. Each local will be entitled to three delegates to the meeting.

Mr. Connell made a strong appeal to the delegates to join forces with the group which he represented. The time had arrived for a radical change in government administration throughout Canada, he stated, and the one thing the country needed at present was candidates who fully represented labor and stood to deliver the world from its present dilemma.

He explained that it was desired to have the council nominate its own candidate, and enter him with three others from the federation, under the latter body's banner.

The issue was discussed at length until it was decided that the labor groups should choose their own line of action at a representative meeting next month.

LULU ISLAND DEATH

Vancouver, May 18 (Canadian Press).—William Robinson, aged sixty-seven, pioneer farmer of Lulu Island, died this morning at his home on Finn Rd. He was a native of New Brunswick and came to British Columbia forty-two years ago. He had farmed on Lulu Island for thirty-three years. Besides the widow he is survived by three sons.

FAVOR DEPUTY MINISTER

Several delegates felt that the appointment of the Deputy Minister of Labor, Adam Bell, to the new position, would have been a more satisfactory move to labor circles, as Mr. Bell was well-known as a competent Labor official.

Clear Ottawa Relief Statement Requested

Calgary Mayor Organizes Western Municipalities Following Report Federal Aid May Be Ended July 31

Canadian Press
Calgary, May 18.—Western provincial and municipal administrations to-day awaited definite news from Ottawa on report that federal unemployment aid would be gradually lessened until July 31, when it would be terminated entirely.

J. B. Williams, city solicitor of Vancouver, stated here yesterday evening information given him indicated the federal government intended cutting from 33 1/3 per cent to 20 per cent its relief assistance on June 30, an additional cut to 10 per cent July 1 and cessation of all aid at the end of July.

Partial confirmation came in an announcement from Victoria of an agreement between British Columbia and the Dominion Government whereby the federal authorities would continue paying 33 1/3 per cent of relief costs in the Coast province until June 1, when the share would be reduced to 20 per cent, with a further reduction to 10 per cent for the period July 1 to July 31. Future federal aid after that date was not clear.

DAVISON'S EFFORTS

Feeling certain the federal authorities planned substantial reduction for all provinces, even if total elimination were not made, Mayor Andy Davison of Calgary continued to-day to organize western municipalities to oppose any reductions. One report said all municipalities would be without federal assistance, while another said reductions would be applied only to those municipalities which were able to absorb increased relief costs.

Grant Hall and D. C. Coleman, C.P.R. Vice-presidents, Pay Spring Visit

Party Is Spending Day Playing Over Oak Bay Golf Course

Raduating his customary geniality but as uncommunicative as ever on transportation policy, Grant Hall, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is in the city to-day from Montreal. With him is D. C. Coleman, vice-president, C.P.R. western lines, Winnipeg.

Other members of the party are George M. Black, well-known Winnipeg financier; John W. Spears, assistant general manager, Bank of Montreal, Winnipeg; and Dr. E. W. Archibald, chief surgeon, Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Mr. Hall looked very fit as he strode across the Causeway on his way from the St. Princess Elizabeth to the Empress Hotel this morning following his arrival from Vancouver. He is slimmer than he used to be. His loss of weight is attributed to his active life and golfing exercise. Whenever he can break away from business he puts in as much time as possible on the golf course.

Most executives look upon Victoria as a playground after strenuous business trips across the continent. Members of the party, very shortly after being assigned to their rooms at the hotel, had changed into golfing tops and set out for the Oak Bay course. Mr. Hall was met on arrival by E. W. McMillen, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, who helped to make up a foursome.

Victorians Seek Chance In B.C. Gold Mine Fields

Forty Unemployed Apply to City For Grubstake Opportunity

Labor-barter Proposals Made; Drop in Relief Lists Anticipated

Evidence that greater efforts are being made to place men back in employment and reduce relief lists was gained in civic circles to-day. While governmental policies appear to aim at a tightening of relief allowances, on the other hand avenues are opening up for gainful employment, it is believed.

General optimism regarding betterment of economic conditions is apparent, and from the city's viewpoint this means a lowering of relief costs.

MINING PLAN POPULAR

Inquiry at the relief office this morning showed that nearly two-score Victorians have already applied to take advantage of the grubstake mining scheme advanced by the provincial government. Some are men who have had experience in the mining game; others have not but are willing to learn.

At the same time, a move was on foot to promote a labor-barter plan. The conference had before it a draft of a resolution submitted by the executive committee, declaring for a (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Associated Press
Barnstable, Mass., May 18.—Kenneth and Cyril Buck, Harwichport brothers, were indicted for kidnapping with intent to extort to-day at a special session of the Barnstable County grand jury, which has been investigating the ransom abduction of ten-year-old Margaret McMath.

Kenneth was indicted on two counts, one of which was read immediately. The McMath child was abducted May 2, and was returned to her parents three days later after they had paid a $60,000 ransom.

Send to reduce the number receiving direct relief. The proposal is to establish a central office where men could apply for jobs, receiving for their work payment in goods which would give them a higher scale than handed out through the relief department.

RELIEF SURVEY

The city relief committee yesterday decided upon a strict survey of all cases within its scope as a means of revealing if any of those still on the lists have been rehabilitated within the last few weeks. Opportunities for employment are believed to be opening up steadily and a large drop in the lists is expected this summer.

Municipalities of the province will join in Vancouver to-morrow to discuss generally the problem created by the new relief agreement between the Dominion and B.C. governments. Mayor Leeming, Victoria, and Reeve Crouch, Saanich, will leave this evening for the mainland.

While seeking to handle the relief question in a spirit of co-operation with the governments, Victoria, it is understood, will make representations for a larger proportion of aid than laid down in the agreement. Local officials have persistently maintained that city areas are deserving of special treatment in the way of allowances, owing to the nature of their case and comparative lack of opportunity for rural support as against residents of rural districts.

Reviewing the list of unions, which it was reported, had sent messages of support to the Premier in his action, it was pointed out that each of the locals mentioned were those affiliated with the all-Canadian Congress.

One point in connection with the appointment which came in for censure was that of paying the new minister $800 a month, a salary considered extraordinary high at a time when the government is busily engaged in slashing its contribution towards relief.

When the issue of the locally-paid workers in the sawmills was raised, it was felt that a resolution protesting it would give the Premier and his new minister something worth while considering.

BRITISH LIBERALS FOR FREER TRADE

return to free trade as the objective, but stating that failing that Great Britain should take the lead in formation of a union among free trade and low tariff countries.

"We don't want any halfway house," one delegate exclaimed. "Imposition of tariffs prior to entering any conference is a 'd-d dishonesty' another added.

A third strenuously objected to what he called Sir Herbert Samuel's "lie."

Scarborough, Eng. May 18.—Liberals who gathered here to-day for the annual conference of the National Liberal Federation surveyed the world in terms of gloom. Ramsay Muir, duly elected president, saw the principles for which Liberals had been fighting, threatened, and in some countries actually overturned.

Mr. Muir spoke of Great Britain's departure from free trade as a "disaster to humanity."

"Most tragic of all," continued the president, "was the almost complete breakdown of the organization of peace."

Percy Heffer, treasurer of the federation, declared agreements signed at Ottawa were "bound to be a colossal and abysmal failure."

Miss Megan Lloyd George, who has been suffering from whooping-cough, after a long absence, returned to the national development and her place was taken by S. Rowntree.

Mr. Rowntree declared the government had "fastened a tariff on the maniacs of steel wrought in Ottawa, and so far as the Ottawa amendments are concerned I think I may say that they have been truly blessed in that they gave much more than they received."

The resolution, which was carried, urged schemes for national development—land settlement and housing specifically mentioned—and other work of useful nature which would produce revenue.

COURT ACTION ON SHAWNIGAN FARM

Declaration of Ownership Sought in Supreme Court Application

Norman W. Whitaker as counsel for Mrs. Elizabeth Emily Sylvester of Shawnigan Lake, widow of W. B. Sylvester, to-day obtained from Mr. Justice Fisher of the Supreme Court a postponement for one week in the date of the action brought against her by C. B. Sylvester and Jesse Percival Sylvester, who claim the property of the farm property since their husband's death, and an agreement was made that the proceeds from the hay crop were to be turned over to repay the advances.

"But Mrs. Sylvester deliberately sold the hay crop and put the money in her pocket," said Mr. Moreby. "This woman has gone up there to the farm and taken everything and has put herself in a very serious position."

"This litigation involves more than the disposal of the hay crop," said Mr. Whitaker. "The farm was registered in her husband's name—W. B. Sylvester. It is quite a valuable farm and it has been her home."

Mr. Moreby renewed his argument against delay in the action. He said the declaration asked was necessary for the protection of the surviving partners. With Mr. Whitaker's consent, the judge said he would make the order, as asked by Mr. Lowe and Mr. Moreby, to go into force automatically at the end of one week unless Mr. Whitaker after consulting with Mrs. Sylvester came into court again and wanted to be heard or was prepared to put in a defence.

Vancouver Objects To New Relief Plan

CITY COUNCIL IS TO LAY FACTS BEFORE TWO GOVERNMENTS

NEW RIDING BORDERS SET

Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Strip of Saanich Added to Federal District of Victoria

Comox-Alberni Considerably Enlarged to Include Portion of Mainland

Ottawa, May 18.—The federal constituency of Victoria will be enlarged, if the clause dealing with it in the redistribution bill now before the Commons is passed without amendment. The Victoria clause of the measure reads:

"18. Victoria—Consisting of all of the city of Victoria, the municipality of Oak Bay, the municipality of Esquimalt and the strip of the municipality of Saanich lying south of the centre line of North Dairy Road, Richmond Avenue and Argyle Avenue, including Trial Island and off-shore islands."

A considerable enlargement of the Comox-Alberni district is embodied in the bill. The new riding, if approved, will be an unusually large one and will include a good deal of the mainland territory embraced by North Vancouver.

The new clause dealing with the constituency follows:

"Comox-Alberni—Consisting of the territory bounded as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of Range of coast land district, thence southerly along the easterly boundary of the said coast land district to the northern boundary of New Westminster land district; thence westerly along the said northerly boundary of New Westminster land district to the height of land between the waters flowing into Jervis Inlet on the east and into the Strait of Georgia on the west; thence southerly along the said height of land and the height of land between the waters flowing into Jervis Inlet on the east and into the Strait of Georgia on the west to the head waters of the creek flowing into Baker Bay (west) through lot 2,557 of New Westminster land district; thence southerly and westerly along the easterly boundary of the said Baker Bay (west), thence southerly to the westerly boundary of New Westminster land district; thence southerly along the said westerly boundary of New Westminster land district to a point due west of Prospect Point lighthouse; thence southerly through the Strait of Georgia and middle channel passing to the north of Newcastle Island through Departure Bay to the northeast corner of Mount Douglas land district; thence southerly along the northern boundary of the said Mount Douglas land district and the northern boundary of Dunsmuir land district to the northern corner of the said Dunsmuir land district; thence southerly along the westerly boundary of the said Dunsmuir land district to the easterly boundary of Barclay land district; thence southerly along the easterly boundary of Barclay land district to the centre line of Nitinat Creek; thence southerly following the said centre line of Nitinat Creek and centre line of the New Westminster land district, thence southerly to the westerly coast of Vancouver Island; thence northwesterly following the said westerly coast of Vancouver Island to the fifty-first parallel to the point of commencement."

NANAIMO CONSTITUENCY
The southern one-third of Vancouver Island will be composed of the Nanaimo and Victoria constituencies. The northern one-third of the island will be a few miles north of Nanaimo city, touching the east coast at Departure Bay, as indicated in the following clause in the bill:

"Nanaimo—Consisting of that part of Vancouver Island, including all off-shore islands, lying south of the electoral district of Comox-Alberni; thence southerly along the easterly boundary of the said Comox-Alberni constituency to the westerly coast of Vancouver Island; thence northwesterly following the said westerly coast of Vancouver Island to the fifty-first parallel to the point of commencement."

Bloomington, O., May 18.—Flames which raged out of control for four hours wrecked the Hotel Grand building, largest in Bloomington's business section, caused $200,000 damage and for a time virtually isolated the town from outside telephone communication. Nine firemen were overcome by smoke.

U.S. Leaders Are Asked To Help Save Sockeye

International Action Alone Will Save the Fish, Premier Tells Commissioners in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 18.—Urging the members of the Western Association of State Game and Fish Commissioners to do all in their power to bring about a satisfactory international treaty with regard to conservation of sockeye salmon, Premier Toole officially opened the 1933 convention of the association at the Hotel Vancouver this forenoon.

The Premier welcomed the visitors on behalf of the government and people of British Columbia, pointing out, however, that British Columbia did not now offer certain advantages over the United States that were enjoyed until a few months ago. He spoke of the great area of game lands in this province, and of the very satisfactory results that had been attained in game conservation here, especially since British Columbia joined the association four years ago.

He was heartily in accord with the aims and objects of the organization, and he then touched on game destruction.

FRASER AREA
The sockeye salmon was now threatened with total elimination, he declared. These fish enter the Fraser River by a roundabout way along the United States coast from the Strait of Juan de Fuca, and proceed to the spawning grounds far up the Fraser. It is estimated 65 to 70 per cent of the fish from the Fraser River spawning lakes are caught by United States fishermen when they return to spawn at the end of the four-year period.

"It is apparent to anyone," declared the Premier, "that regulations to protect the sockeye must be international. Canada has approved a treaty. The longer joint regulations are put off, the more serious it will be for the sockeye. We are quite willing to agree to any reasonable treaty. Let us get together on this matter and save a very valuable food fish."

The afternoon session was opened by papers by Dr. C. M. Motley of Nanaimo, and Dr. W. A. Clemens of Nanaimo on the subjects respectively of Klamath trout and scientific investigation in relation to conservation.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 18.—Faced with a tremendous additional financial load as a result of the new relief agreement between the Dominion and province, Vancouver's civic authorities are preparing to submit evidence to Victoria and Ottawa that the city is unable to bear the burden of cost and must be granted greater assistance than proposed.

To-day the city council appointed Alderman G. C. Miller, finance chairman, and Acting Comptroller Walter Wardhaugh to prepare data to substantiate the city's submission that it is not in a financial position to assume greater relief load than at present. This report will be considered by the council before final action is taken.

Humanitarian Administration

Promised By F. D. Pattullo, Liberal Leader, at Princeton Meeting

Failures Seeking to Protect Own Skins Under Coalition Plan, He Says

Princeton, N.C., May 18.—Liberalism in the broadest delineation of that word was the platform of the Liberal party in British Columbia in the present campaign, said F. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, to nearly 500 people in the Orange Hall here yesterday evening.

He promised a humanitarian administration with the guiding principle of the Golden Rule, "to serve the modern Moses to lead the Children of Israel out of the Egyptian famine in which Dr. Toole and his dwindling army have submerged it."

Dr. Toole could do nothing, for he had nothing to do anything with, Mr. Pattullo asserted. His own henchmen have forsaken him and British Columbia was presented with a situation unprecedented in political history, where a retiring administration found itself by declaration of its own party not something in the new election.

As for Mr. Bowser, he was just a "sour grape." He had gathered together a band of political cast-offs, who were mere lines of the said creek, Baker Bay (west), Hotham Sound and Jervis Inlet, passing west of Hardy Island, to the westerly boundary of New Westminster land district; thence southerly along the said westerly boundary of New Westminster land district to a point due west of Prospect Point lighthouse; thence southerly through the Strait of Georgia and middle channel passing to the north of Newcastle Island through Departure Bay to the northeast corner of Mount Douglas land district; thence southerly along the northern boundary of the said Mount Douglas land district and the northern boundary of Dunsmuir land district to the northern corner of the said Dunsmuir land district; thence southerly along the westerly boundary of the said Dunsmuir land district to the easterly boundary of Barclay land district; thence southerly along the easterly boundary of Barclay land district to the centre line of Nitinat Creek; thence southerly following the said centre line of Nitinat Creek and centre line of the New Westminster land district, thence southerly to the westerly coast of Vancouver Island; thence northwesterly following the said westerly coast of Vancouver Island to the fifty-first parallel to the point of commencement."

BY ABOLISHING OPPOSITION
Dr. Toole, having indignantly failed with a three-to-one majority, appealed for a coalition which would be no stronger than the men who composed it, a large number of the members of the present administration who sought to protect their own skins by abolishing opposition, he said.

Dr. Toole had offered him (Mr. Pattullo) terms, and he had declined with the dignity required of the situation, whereupon the disgruntled Tory head had personally classed him as only a companion for a dog fight, and had urged that "be thought very little of Duff, but that Duff would be a good leader to get Liberal support." At this time Dr. Toole did not even have the support of his own followers, concluded Mr. Pattullo.

U.S. Leaders Are Asked To Help Save Sockeye

International Action Alone Will Save the Fish, Premier Tells Commissioners in Vancouver

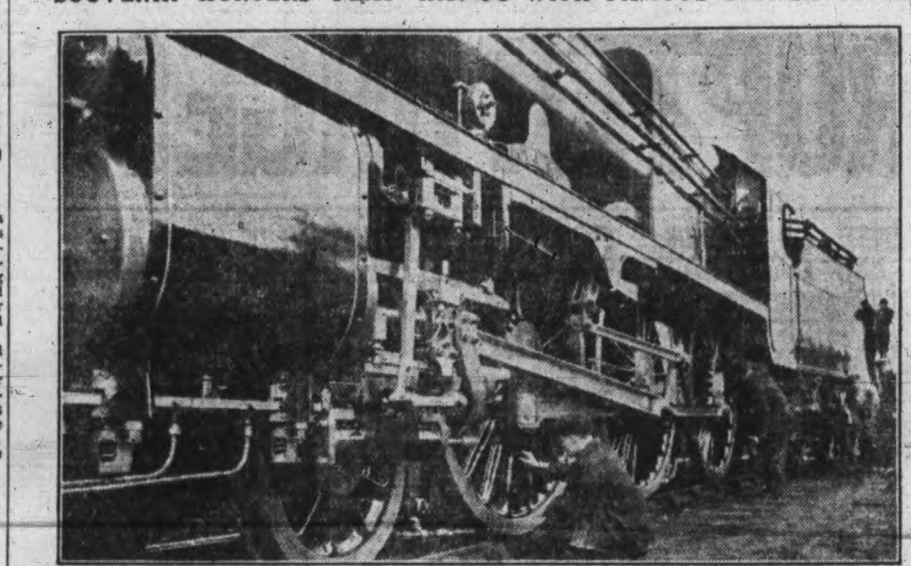

Vancouver, May 18.—Urging the members of the Western Association of State Game and Fish Commissioners to do all in their power to bring about a satisfactory international treaty with regard to conservation of sockeye salmon, Premier Toole officially opened the 1933 convention of the association at the Hotel Vancouver this forenoon.

The Premier welcomed the visitors on behalf of the government and people of British Columbia, pointing out, however, that British Columbia did not now offer certain advantages over the United States that were enjoyed until a few months ago. He spoke of the great area of game lands in this province, and of the very satisfactory results that had been attained in game conservation here, especially since British Columbia joined the association four years ago.

He was heartily in accord with the aims and objects of the organization, and he then touched on game destruction.

FRASER AREA
The sockeye salmon was now threatened with total elimination, he declared. These fish enter the Fraser River by a roundabout way along the United States coast from the Strait of Juan de Fuca, and proceed to the spawning grounds far up the Fraser. It is estimated 65 to 70 per cent of the fish from the Fraser River spawning lakes are caught by United States fishermen when they return to spawn at the end of the four-year period.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS PLAY HAVOC WITH FAMOUS BRITISH TRAIN

If the engineers in charge of the famous British train, the Royal Scot, make many more stops before reaching the World Fair at Chicago, some ambitious souvenir hunters may steal the engine. While on exhibit at Ottawa "enthusiastic" residents of the Capital carried off practically every movable article on view in the train, even the electric light bulbs. The train moved on to Toronto and again met with the same treatment, this time even the grease caps on the engine vanished. But the worst was yet to come, when, at Hamilton, the train had to leave ahead of schedule in order to escape the souvenir hunters. It is reported that several people carved their initials on the doors of the coaches and on the engine. Our picture shows the famous Royal Scot engine being painted specially for the trip to Chicago.

JAPANESE DELEGATE IS WELCOMED IN U.S.

In San Francisco Viscount Ishii Urges All to Join in "War on Economic Depression": Will Talk With Roosevelt and Go to London Conference

Associated Press
San Francisco, May 18.—Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, Japan's delegate to the London Economic Conference, expressed hope the world would join in "a war against economic depression," as he passed here to-day en route to a conference with President Roosevelt in Washington.

"Your President wants to pool the world's minds and brains," he said, "and I dare say, the world's hearts as well to find the way out of this appalling situation. Japan is anxious to work with America and other nations for the common good of the world."

The only public function Viscount Ishii attended to-day was a Common wealth Club luncheon, at which he was guest speaker.

On his arrival here yesterday, Viscount Ishii was received with diplomatic courtesy by Richard Southgate, assistant chief of the division of international conferences, as the Japanese liner Tatsuta Maru steamed inside the Golden Gate.

The Viscount, who is a privy councillor, crown member of the Japanese House of Peers, and special envoy to the World Economic Conference, told newspapermen that he would go directly to Washington.

The former Japanese Ambassador to France emphasized his visit was a gesture of good will, and a co-operation from our government and people to the government and people of the United States," and added: "Japan wishes to co-operate with America in every practicable way in the urgent task of lifting the pall of gloom which has descended on the whole world as a result of the unprecedented economic crisis."

Writing in Ere Nouvelle, former Premier Herriot declared: "Do not compromise by clumsy acts the evolution proceeding from America with the question of security, as was done with the question of debts."

Statements in world capitals on the speech delivered yesterday by Chancellor Hitler of Germany may be summarized as follows:
London—Chancellor's speech clears much anxiety. It is regarded as gratifying, but needing endorsement of subsequent acts.
Washington—President Roosevelt is said to be greatly pleased that Chancellor Hitler approved his plans for peace.

Paris—French reaction is represented as being that acts alone can prove Germany's sincerity toward peace. Edouard Herriot, former Premier, warns Germany will claim equality on sea after equality on land.

Berlin—Overwhelming support for speech is voiced. Centrist newspaper Reichsbote says it is "the clearest, best feeling all round." The vice-president declined to be drawn out when questioned on the present war situation in Canada.

En route to the Coast Mr. Hall left the main line at Calgary and traveled via the Crow's Nest and Kettle Valley route.

The party stopped off at Trail, he said, to inspect the plant of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company and had lunch at the Bonington Falls plant of the West Kootenay Power Company, which supplies the smelter with power.

"We are here to inspect the company's facilities on the island and to meet old friends," said Mr. Coleman. He spoke of the greater optimism on the prairies due to the increased price of wheat. The season's crop outlook is favorable, he said, although there is a possibility of decreased acreage on the prairies because of backward weather.

The party expects to leave to-morrow night for the mainland en-route east.

BREAKS JAIL IN PRAIRIE CENTRE

Red Deer, Alta., May 18.—Police to-day were seeking Fred Fisher, twenty-eight, who escaped from jail here while awaiting transfer to the Fort Saskatchewan Jail to serve a two-year sentence. He had been found guilty of an offence under the Juvenile Delinquency Act.

Fisher gained his freedom by tearing a heavy iron bracket from his jail cell and using it to smash the lock on the cell door.

MIYUN TAKEN BY JAPANESE

Advancing Troops Occupy City North of Peiping, According to Report

Battle Lasted Throughout Night and Day, Say Invaders

Canadian Press and Associated Press
Tokyo, May 18.—The city of Miyun thirty-five miles north of Peiping which had been the objective of a Japanese drive for the last week was occupied this afternoon by the attacking army, the Rengo (Japanese) New Agency reported.

The occupation was effected, the Rengo dispatch said, by the 8th Division, commanded by Lieut-Gen. Yoshikazu Nishi. The city was taken after Nanhsing-Chuang, seventy miles to the northeast, had fallen to the 16th Infantry Brigade led by Major-General Tadashi Kawahara, one of the units of the 8th Division.

A battle which lasted all night and today preceded the triumphal entry to-night of the two Nishi brigades within the walls of Miyun.

The Japanese had routed stubbornly resisting Chinese near a battlefield reported littered with the bodies of the defenders.

NEW BRIDGE TO COST $12,000,000

Various types of reinforced concrete bridges could be erected at a cost from $18,000 to $20,000. While these, of course, would be the most substantial, this cost is felt to be a little high, although the municipalities in effect state that if the bridge is to be replaced, the new structure must be one which will withstand many years of service.

The complete statement of estimates has been prepared by H. H. Allen, engineer of Saanich, in conjunction with H. F. Bourne, Esquimalt engineer.

MAY MEET NEXT WEEK
It is proposed to have the municipal committee, consisting of members from each council, interview the government as early as possible next week.

As previously stated, it is the intention of municipal authorities to have the government accept full responsibility of the bridge. Both municipalities at present are financially unable to accept the burden of building a new bridge, and with the recent cuts in relief made by the B.C. and Dominion Governments in effect they declare it will be utterly impossible for them to contribute to the cost.

Bennett Is Not

Planning to Quit

Ottawa, May 18.—That the government would not resign because of the defeat in the Senate Tuesday of the bill to amend the Judges' Act, was a statement made by Prime Minister Bennett in answer to S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, in the Commons yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Jacobs harked back to the statement in the House made some days ago by Mr. Bennett in respect to the "daisy bill," when he said that if the government should dismiss any of the proposed Canadian National trustees in the Senate on Tuesday of the Judges' Act, he would resign.

Mr. Bennett said that the Commons should have the same effect.

"I have no such intention," Premier Bennett replied, "nor did I ever intend to do so, except in the case of joint resolution."

Move For Import

Embargo Ended

London, May 18.—A move in the Commons to prohibit the entry of German goods into Great Britain under the international sanctions clause of the League of Nations covenant was adopted yesterday after a speech by Sir Austen Chamberlain.

Geoffrey Mander, National Liberal, requested a bill to authorize the prohibition of German goods and spoke for five minutes in defence of the proposal.

Sir Austen arose in a tense atmosphere and, to the accompaniment of cheering, declared that he was not prepared to withdraw the "daisy" bill, but that he would take the Commons into consideration.

Mr. Mander withdrew the bill.

PAINTING STARTS

MUCH ARGUMENT

Diego Rivera, famous Mexican mural painter, has become the storm centre of a new controversy following his dismissal from the Rockefeller Centre, New York, where he had been engaged to paint a series of frescoes.

Rivera was ousted, it is said, because he refused to remove part of the scene of Communist activities he had painted because they were not acceptable to the Rockefeller family. The above picture was taken while Rivera was working on the murals.

London, May 18.—An interview allegedly given by Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador to Japan, while he was in Winnipeg recently, was the subject of several questions in the Commons yesterday.

Sir Francis was reported in an Ottawa dispatch as having expressed sympathy at Winnipeg with Japan's policy concerning Manchuria.

London, May 18.—The girls of Simmons College have submitted to a poll to determine the ideal man, and from their combined answers to the vital question has emerged this composite picture of the perfect male:

A tall, dark, attractive man; intelligent but not intellectual. Going a little further, the girls define their ideal man as possessing a "certain amount" of conceit. He must, in addition, be "suave and romantic," but they insist that he have stability of mind and character. Drinking is not classified as an objection, but the desirable male must be able to carry his liquor like a gentleman or he won't get across with these girls.

So much for the general description of the perfect man; going into the different classes, a wide variety in qualifications is found. The upper-class students, in preference, prefer a sincere man, while a man with a "smooth line" seems to fill the bill for most of the freshmen.

The girls are out on a stiff jolt to the chin for many a budding Romeo when they defined their pet dislike as being men with freckles or mustaches. And as for those men who are the "life of the party," they were casually set down as not to be taken seriously.

Finally, while the students frankly admitted they had no hopes of finding men who measure up to all the specifications, they voted that the men of Harvard Law School were the nearest approach to the ideal males.

London, May 18.—Prime Minister MacDonald today announced in the Commons that he and seven cabinet members would make up the British delegation to the World Economic Conference, set to open here June 1.

Washington, May 18.—An application for a preliminary permit for the state of Washington to build the Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia River, looking to ultimate incorporation as one of the major projects under the administration of the public works bill, was to be filed with the power commission today by the Washington Basin Commission.

Senator Dill, Washington Democrat, announced the move yesterday evening as "the first official step toward the development of that mighty river and a great publicly-owned power system for the North Pacific coast and intermountain country that will far surpass the publicly owned system of Ontario."

Toronto, May 18 (Canadian Press).—Low Kendall, motion picture operator yesterday, was sentenced to one year in the reformatory for leaving a "stencil bomb" in a theatre here following the dismissal of union movie operators. His arrest followed a series of stencil bombings in local theatres which had experienced labor troubles.

Several measures for agricultural and horticultural relief are being considered by the Netherlands.

Montréal, May 18.—Marcel Belair, first of eleven convicts to stand trial on charges arising from the fire and riots in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near here last November, yesterday was found guilty of "doing grievous bodily harm" to Guard Albert Bédard, the verdict being brought in by a jury before Mr. Justice Charles A. Wilson in the Court of King's Bench.

Belair was charged with having attempted to murder Bédard during the outbreak at the penitentiary, in which several guards and convicts were injured and prison workshops destroyed by fire.

Deaths reported in Canadian Press dispatches yesterday and to-day included:

Washington — Clinton W. Gilbert, sixty-one, veteran political correspondent, and author of anonymous published "Mirrors of Washington."

Minneapolis — Swan Johan Turnblad, seventy-two, leader among Swedish-Americans and publisher of a Swedish language newspaper.

Athens, Ga. — Charles H. Brand, seventy-two, ranking Democrat in the United States House of Representatives banking committee.

SENATE VOTES PACT ON TRADE

Canada's Treaty With France Put Through Final Legislative Stage

Ottawa, May 18.—After brief discussion, the Senate yesterday approved the bill ratifying the new trade treaty between Canada and France, already passed by the Commons. The convention between Canada and France concerning the rights of nationals and commercial and shipping matters, also was approved.

The government bill amending the Pension Act received final reading in the Senate. An amendment proposed by Senator H. S. Beland, under which one member of the Federal Appeal Court should be an experienced medical man, was not pressed.

SUICIDE MADE BASIS OF TRIAL

San Francisco, May 18.—Supposed messages from the spirit of his deceased wife led Dr. Frank E. Bishop, the prosecution charged in the trial of James J. Dickson, spiritualist, and his divorced wife, Gertrude, which is proceeding here.

Mrs. Beatie Pugh, a sister of the optometrist, and A. C. Henion, of Oakland, a friend, testified Dr. Bishop had told them he had conversed with his dead wife, Louise, through spiritualistic seances conducted by Dickson, and that she said:

"It is wonderful here in Asurland! There is no sickness, no pain. But I am awfully lonesome for you and I will never be happy until you join me."

Prosecutor Joseph Garry declared it was such repeated declarations which induced Dr. Bishop to take his life after willing his estate to Mrs. Dickson. A civil jury recently set the will aside.

The Dicksons, who are charged under the California penal code with encouraging the suicide, also were accused by Henion with advising Dr. Bishop on financial affairs through the medium of supposed spirits. Dr. Bishop, the witness said, consulted "Big Chief Mowhawk" and his squaw, "Minnie Wahwah," concerning disposal of $75,000 worth of bank stock.

Mrs. Pugh told the jury her brother had kept always on his dresser a photograph of the child spirit, "Little Minnie Brown," in her shadowy but visible ectoplasm.

NEW MINISTER TELLS 'EM WHAT'S WHAT

The mystery which enshrouded the appointment of the new Minister of Labor has not been clarified by the statement issued by Mr. Dennies—somewhat precipitately, we fear—shortly after he was properly installed in office. That deliverance, which came directly from the Minister and was published precisely as it was received, was so ambiguous in many respects that the public is entitled to an authoritative explanation of just what it meant, for, although the government may not be aware of the fact, and it is news to Mr. Dennies, announcements of this kind must be accepted by the electorate as declarations of government policy which can not be repudiated without the translation of the Minister who makes them back to the cold shades of obscurity.

There is one modest note in Mr. Dennies' pontifical pronouncement which is clear and definite. This is to be found in the intimation that his entrance into the cabinet means an entirely new orientation in provincial administration. Whatever has gone before, whatever the Talmie government and all the governments which have preceded it may or may not have done, their records become virtually extinct through the bare appearance in the ministry of the new Minister, who, puts them into the discard with a mere wave of the hand. The emergence of Mr. Dennies into the Cabinet, we are told by that gentleman, means that at last we are going to have a "union government" of "visional" and prudent men; men of integrity, men who "realize that society takes precedence over party, and narrow-minded selfish politicians." We are now—on the eve of an election—going to have "men who have been trained in their callings and who have the initiative to apply their training with discretion and efficiency in the interests of the people of British Columbia."

We gather from this announcement by Mr. Dennies that in his opinion until his appointment British Columbia's government has been seriously lacking in the qualities which he outlined in the paragraph we have quoted from his statement. But does not that imply a serious reflection upon Premier Talmie who chose the ministry, which, by inference, Mr. Dennies, out of his three hours of experience in public life, so roundly condemns? Obviously, if the Talmie government is so deficient in "visional" and prudent men, men of integrity, of initiative, discretion, efficiency and so on, if they are narrow-minded, selfish politicians, is not Dr. Talmie responsible for that fact, since he appointed them? And, if the Premier in those instances has been so lax in his judgment, is it not possible—perish the thought—that he may have been equally lax or mistaken in the appointment of Mr. Dennies as the harbinger of a new perfection in provincial administration? While Mr. Dennies evidently is sure that he has not, we can only hope that he has not, but the initial statement of the latest recruit to the government leaves the question an open one.

The new Minister also lost no time in announcing a new government policy—although we doubt very much if the other members of the government ever heard of it before. As it deals with an important matter, we quote it verbatim in part:

Also I may say our future efforts will be to eliminate at least eighty-five per cent and possibly ninety-five per cent of the expense of relief recipients of the present time without a semblance of any returns either to the state or any one else which cannot continue indefinitely but it is creating a distinct feature of demoralization which is getting more pronounced every day.

By or in making a real critical survey of the industrial phase of the situation in the way of spreading the hours of work. That is by reducing, rotating or probably both, temporary, during the depression. And in conjunction with the industrial survey a general scheme of on-to-the-land.

This somewhat obscure passage seems to imply—if it means anything at all—that the government proposes to cut out at least eighty-five and possibly ninety-five per cent of the provincial cost of unemployment relief, through the substitution of a project of turning our unemployed on the land in various forms of assisted colonization, plus some kind of readjustment of the hours of labor in industry. In other words, Mr. Dennies is going to do more than solve the unemployment problem. He is going to give more employment than we ever had before, and some nine-tenths of the cost which the province now has to bear will be eliminated. We shall have to import unemployed. All power to the Minister in this unexampled programme—a programme in which the new "Conservative Union Government" will show the rest of the world what's what, and which will make Ramsay MacDonald and President Roosevelt look like juveniles. It seems unfortunate, indeed, that the Premier did not discover Mr. Dennies sooner, say, three years ago; any time, in fact, other than the eve of a provincial election. It is also unfortunate that Mr. Dennies gave so much publicity to the government's new sure-thing solution of our unemployment problem, since Mr. Bennett may decide that in all of the circumstances it is unnecessary for Ottawa to make any further contributions to this purpose, and that, in spite of Mr. Dennies, would be disastrous.

Many Canadians will have heard with gratification that Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington, is making satisfactory progress after his operation in Ottawa for appendicitis. He became critically ill after a relapse. Latest reports indicate that the crisis has been passed and that the patient is now on the way to recovery.

SOMETHING UNIQUE IN THE WAY OF TRADE DISCUSSION

It is rather difficult to understand just what the morning paper means when it says that "whatever plans may be in view for a reciprocity treaty with the United States, Canada can not act in this respect with a popular mandate." Nor is it easy to understand the following argument or to fit it in with Canadian needs and Premier Bennett's desire in the matter of increased trade:

If Canadian trade barriers are lowered to benefit United States producers, the manufacturing interests of the Dominion must suffer; labor must suffer as well, and transportation in this country will derive smaller revenues. Such tariff revisions are always threatened with mutability. Whatever might be the policies devised by President Roosevelt or by Mr. Bennett, there is no assurance that they would be maintained by their successors in office. There is no stable basis for reciprocity between two such countries. It is different with trade treaties within the empire, and it is these, because of their comparative permanency, that should be fostered.

There never has been any suggestion that Canada would do all the giving and none of the taking. The Colonist ought to know by this time that Mr. Bennett's plan for the most part has been the other way round. But he has been forced to admit that if Canada is to sell she must be prepared to buy, that there is no such thing as a profitable one-way trade.

The suggestion that "there is no stable basis for reciprocity between two such countries," of course, will naturally provide Mr. Bennett with some amusement. He will probably ask that he be saved from his friends. Mr. Beatty will also wonder how he is to work out the theory that with Canada doing more trade with the United States "transportation in this country will derive smaller revenues."

Although there is no ground for the contention that succeeding governments in Canada and the United States would not make permanent any reciprocity agreement into which the two countries might enter, it is a safe bet that after the experience through which both have gone in the last three years, visible benefits would not be lightly disturbed.

As for the treaties with the empire, there is little to be said for the time being; they have not had a fair chance to demonstrate their value. It is interesting to note, however, that according to the budget statement which Mr. Rhodes presented to the House of Commons on March 21, Canada's trade with the rest of the empire for the ten months ending January 31, 1933, was worth $6,946,300 less than it was in the ten months ending January 31, 1932!

Figures made public by the Department of National Revenue on Tuesday, incidentally, show that the import and export trade for the month of April this year was worth $40,468,946, compared with $56,722,052 for the corresponding month of 1932, or a decline of more than $16,000,000. Consequently the revenue from customs duties and excise was down by $3,366,427.

These are the trade facts with which Mr. Bennett is confronted—and they explain why he will swallow his party's old cry of "no truck or trade with the Yankees" to enable Canada to get back some of the billion dollars' worth of business with her neighbor which she has lost in the last three years.

WHAT DO THE WOMEN SAY OF HIS ENDING?

Found dead one morning recently, a shot-gun between his knees, and a string tied to the trigger told the story of the tragic ending of Sir Henry Alfred McCardie, of the King's Bench Division of the High Court of Britain.

Such an end was hardly to be expected of one who had achieved such fame on the bench as Sir Henry had. He was known as the "Bachelor Judge" and his comments on the raiment of women-kind, of the position of women in relation to their husbands, often got him into hot water with other equally eminent jurists who held more orthodox views.

Lord Chief Justice Scrutton once rebuked him for describing the proper clothing for the gentler sex to wear. But he remained quite fearless; he continued to allow himself ample latitude for delivering pithy and unconventional opinions, whether from the bench or public platform, whether such opinions had to do with governmental administration or the domestic scene.

Mr. Justice McCardie once spoke of the woman perjurer this way: "Nothing can exceed the skill, self-confidence, and the audacious reliance on sex that she so frequently displays. She has also a histrionic sense which is not, as a rule, possessed by the male. Many women, alas! seem to have a peculiar faculty for an attractive and plausible presentment of false evidence."

McCardie had a poor opinion of women on juries. "They are attentive, careful, and often intellectual," he said; "but they are too emotional, too nervous, too inexperienced in indispensable matters concerning human life." But it is now for the woman whom he so often criticized to render their judgment on the manner in which he ended his life.

REDUCING GOVERNMENTS
The Toronto Star

Ontario's Legislature is being reduced in size by the elimination of twenty-two ridings. Toronto's city council is to lose eight of its members. Both reductions are in line with the general demand for reduced costs of government. It is a demand which has been voiced in many quarters.

Loose Ends

The Blossom Movement blossoms out—into more gorgeous bloom—solely with a view to avoid all narrow bickering—second unit with everyone and anyone—because Mr. Whiffleton—and hence Hon. Worlton Muttie.

By H. B. W.

COUNTRY SAFE

IN MY RECENT absence the Blossom Movement, I find, made gratifying strides and is practically ready now to give the country good government. The only detail lacking, as with some other parties, is a majority in the Legislature, a public policy and some men willing to be its candidates. Apart from that, it is like many other parties, practically the government of the country already. The purpose of the Blossom Movement's last meeting, which I attended last night (and which the newspapers, as usual, ignored in attempt to crush this spontaneous rising of the people), was simple. It was designed to achieve a complete union between all the warring factions of the Blossom Movement, to weld them together in one happy family.

We felt that if we could unite Mr. Pudbury, who has grown extremely radical in his views since the price of milk went down, and Mr. Beak, who has become rather reactionary since the price of eggs went up, and Colonel Blossom, who now advocates a programme of inflation in the United States which would increase the value of the pound sterling and, quite incidentally, his income—so we felt that if we could unite all the elements of the Blossom Movement, then we could form a union government indeed. The other minor groups of politics on the outside, we could afford to ignore.

STRATEGY

AT THE very beginning, remembering the strategy of other parties, we hit on the happy idea of widening the name of the movement to include these warring elements. In the first place, we felt it would be good strategy to insert the name Conservative in the name somewhere so as to split the Conservative vote, and also to satisfy Mr. Beak's present reactionary views. So we thought we would call it the Conservative Blossom Movement. But Mr. Pudbury objected flatly to this (the price of milk having gone down and the whole economic system being on the verge of collapse as a result), so we added the word Liberal. This gave us the Conservative Liberal Blossom Movement.

Even that did not satisfy Mr. Pudbury. When he recalled the price of milk, he insisted that we should go still further to the left and insert some more drastic word. He suggested "voluntary." So we added "voluntary" to the name. This was a bit strong, by gad, so we compromised on "radical." At the request of the colonel we balanced "radical" by inserting the word "loyal," so that no one could suspect, as the colonel wisely observed, that we intended to do anything silly or dangerous. "I mean to say," said the colonel, "we don't want people thinking we're going to try to change and reform things and what not, and all that sort of thing."

When we came to sort it out, we found we now had the Loyal Conservative Liberal Radical Party. Just then it occurred to Mr. Glumby, with a flash of brilliance which proved fleeting, that we were against all parties, and against the wicked institution of party government altogether. So we quickly changed our name again to the Loyal Conservative Liberal Radical, Non-party Party. When the colonel read the name out Mr. Beak remarked: "You said a mouthful," and Mr. Pudbury admitted grudgingly that it was a "pretty name and seems to cover the point."

Still, Mr. Whiffleton thought we ought to widen the party's appeal by including in its name such groups as the inflationists and the deflationists, the socialists and the fascists. "And the philatelists and chiropractors and taxidermists," Mr. Beak suggested, but we discovered that this was just sarcasm, and we felt we couldn't include all these groups, much as we would like to have made this friendly gesture, so, to cover the whole field of economic thought, from the extreme right to the extreme left, we finally fixed our name, the Loyal Conservative Liberal Radical, Left, Right and Centre Non-party Party.

NO TRICKS

MR. WHIFFLETON suggested that, having got a name to cover all our principles and policies we had better acquire a few principles and policies to cover. This cheap and partisan trick to attract votes we indignantly repudiated. With Colonel Blossom, we warmly agreed when he rebuked Mr. Whiffleton's attempt to introduce party politics into an unselfish people's movement. "I say," said the colonel, "we don't have to grovel in this crisis, we ought to be above that sort of thing, and all that." Mr. Whiffleton, greatly abashed, said he had meant no harm but he felt that a party policy might help us to get elected. "No cheap tricks like that," said the colonel. "The day of partisanship is past in this country."

Besides, said Mr. Beak, if we adopted any policy whatever, no matter how vague and unimportant, it would be sure to offend either the Conservatives, the Liberals, the Loyalists, the Radicals, the Left, Right or Centre. To weld all these forces together, said Mr. Beak sagely, we must be prepared to drop our petty squabbles and outworn traditions and rally about our sacred plan. "What is that plan?" said Mr. Whiffleton meekly.

"Why," said Mr. Beak, "to get elected, of course. We can't do anything on the outside." Our duty, therefore, like men and Britons, was to get elected. To this programme, he said, the Conservatives, Liberals, Loyalists, Radicals, the Left, Right and Centre could all subscribe. To this programme we all pledged ourselves like patriots.

GREAT MAN

THESE weighty matters having been settled to everyone's satisfaction (though Mr. Pudbury grumbled privately that we might have stretched a point and come out in favor of higher milk prices), we proceeded to welcome a distinguished visitor. This was the Honorable Worlton Muttie, Minister of Air and Water in the Provincial Government. Hon. Mr. Muttie had come to explain to our movement his own position in the present crisis. He pointed out that he had already resigned from the government. But, purely in the interests of the public, he had continued in office and would do so until the election. After that, well, Mr. Muttie would patriotically leave it to the electors. ("You're tellin' us," murmured Mr. Pudbury.)

Hon. Mr. Muttie made it clear that he was in no sense endorsing the policies and record of the Talmie government, of which he had been a distinguished minister for five years. These, as everyone knew, were the responsibilities of the Prime Minister. As a matter of fact, he said, he disagreed with most of his policies and record but, in the public interest, he had always voted for them and advocated them in public. Now the time had come for plain speaking, and he wished it known that he had always been bitterly opposed to the mistakes of the government but had vigorously advocated all its wise acts.

It was not true, said Hon. Mr. Muttie, that he was deserting his leader in time of need. He was merely resigning and remaining in the government and running as an independent; but, if the Premier should happen to get a majority, then, like the loyalist, he would be glad to serve in Dr. Talmie's cabinet again. No man, said Mr. Muttie, could be more loyal than that.

FOR EVERYTHING

BUT HON. MR. MUTTIE emphasized again that he was not for a moment endorsing the government's record and hoped the electors would understand this fact; he was prepared to subscribe to all the principles, and all the adjectives appearing in the name of our party. "And," Hon. Mr. Wortie added magnificently, "to any other principles and adjectives that may be suggested. This is no time for partisan bickering and narrow selfishness. I stand for—well, I stand for everything!" ("And anything," muttered Mr. Beak.)

"Just what," said the colonel, "are you running as in this election?" "I am running," said Mr. Wortie with dignity, "as a Unionist."

"Yes, but as a Talmie Unionist or a Bowser Unionist?" asked Mr. Glumby. "I repeat," said Hon. Mr. Wortie with dignity, "I am running as a Unionist. I advocate union. That should satisfy any reasonable man. So dear to my heart is the cause of union that I will unite with anyone. Can any man offer more?"

"But will you support Dr. Talmie or Mr. Bowser for the premiership?" asked Mr. Beak.

"Ah," said Mr. Wortie rubbing his hands across his vest caressingly, "that will depend. I shall have to see the result of the election, naturally, before I can answer that."

MAN ENDS LIFE AFTER ACCIDENT

Associated Press
 Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—Two trucks collided. Mrs. Leon Allen, a passenger on one, was injured, but her husband escaped unhurt.

Thomas Stevens was the driver of the other truck. After viewing the damage, he offered the keys of his car to Allen and then walked out to a nearby field and shot himself to death.

A widow, a son and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Drew of New York, survive him.

That by someone the course has been changed.

The ultimate good! As you press ahead Be sure the riddle has all been read.

The ultimate good! Though you cannot see Sometimes, what the end of the road will be, Be sure always at you press ahead, And your days in the rhythm of your thoughts will move!

WHY NOT VICTORIA?

To the Editor:—In the evenings after 6 o'clock I always turn on Victoria station CFT and have no fault to find with their programmes. Twice during the last week I was not interested in the selection being broadcast so I thought I would try a Vancouver station.

In both instances I considered myself lucky in obtaining a programme from Montreal.

The Vancouver stations announced that it was being broadcast by authority of the Dominion Radio Commission.

Is there any reason why Victoria should not be in the same hook-up and give the citizens the benefit of the Montreal programme?

To the Editor:—It would take more than a hundred new Ministers of Labor to make working men forget the wage and meal taxes of the Talmie government or the sugar tax of Dr. Talmie's party pal, Mr. Multimillionaire Bennett of Ottawa.

BRITAIN'S NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

To the Editor:—In an editorial a few days ago you commented on the failure of the National Government in England to find a remedy for unemployment. By so doing you reflected on your own power of imagination to visualize that but for the National Government's activities the position might have been relatively as acute as the unemployment in the U.S.A. Do you realize that three years ago the unemployed in Great Britain numbered nearly 3,000,000? This number has been reduced as you yourself show while in the same period unemployment in the States has grown out of all proportion, and to-day the unemployment in Great Britain is probably as one to three in comparison with the United States on the basis of their respective populations. This is allowing for the figures being arrived at on a more accurate and modest basis of calculation than that followed in the States as admitted by authorities in the latter country.

As a visitor here interested in economic questions with you allow me to emphasize again what I expressed in a letter on my last visit, three years ago, as to the domination of the United States, which has undergone no change in Canada, except to become more apparent.

I am a South African and have recently been studying economic and social questions in England, New Zealand and Australia. I can safely say from personal observation that Canada

Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced

Never mind what people say. If you have varicose or swollen veins and want to reduce them to normal, go to MacFarlane Drug Co., B. C. Drugs, Ltd., or any enterprising drug store and ask for an original two-ounce bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength). If he hasn't it, he can get it.

Apply it to the enlarged veins as directed and improvement will be noticed in a few days. Continue its use until veins return to normal size. It is guaranteed to reduce swollen veins or money back.

TAX INCREASE IS EXPLAINED

Higher Levy Brought About By Reductions in Revenue, Esquimalt Reeve Explains

Ratepayers Hear Municipal Heads at Trade Board Meeting

Reasons why the Reeve and council in Esquimalt had been forced to increase the mill rate and improvement tax this year, were explained to ratepayers of the municipality by Reeve Albert Heald at a meeting in the Parish Hall yesterday evening, sponsored by the Board of Trade.

The Reeve and Major A. A. Warder, chairman of the School Board, gave a complete resume of the 1933 budget. It had been necessary to seek authority to market the $30,000 worth of debentures as sanctioned by the passing of the by-law, because of pressure being brought to bear on the municipality by the bank to meet the overdraft and current liabilities, the Reeve said. The debentures, he added, would be issued only as a last resort, and if delinquent taxes were paid up as fully as anticipated by July 31, it would not be necessary to market them.

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS

Principal reasons for the increase in taxes were the reduction of assessments which followed the successful appeal of the Hudson's Bay Company, the loss of government grants, and the placing of additional social service costs on the municipality, which had not been budgeted for and were therefore extraordinary expenditures.

Reeve Heald touched briefly on relief, stating that he felt the municipalities would have to supply more than their usual one-third portion in view of the recent reductions in government contributions, effected by the new provincial agreement with federal authorities.

He gave a detailed account of expenditures budgeted for this year and told the gathering that if it so desired to appoint a committee to investigate this year's estimates, the council would co-operate to every extent. The Reeve thought that Esquimalt was in a better position than most municipalities of its kind in Canada. In Saanich and Burnaby, he pointed out, there had been large increases in the current year's mill rate.

MAYOR'S STAND IS CENSURED

Labor Council Protests Statement That Interference Not Wanted

"Citizens Have Right to Offer Suggestions," Union Man Claims

Mayor David Leeming's recent statement to members of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, to the effect that he did not want to see the Trades Council interfering with the business of the City Council, which body had been elected by the people to administer the affairs of the city, was strongly censured by the union men at yesterday evening's meeting.

V. R. Midgeley explained to the delegates that during a recent visit to the council chamber, when the labor body was protesting against the laying off of five men who for several years had contributed to the superannuation fund during their period of employment on city boulevards, the mayor had informed them that he did not like to see the labor representatives interfering with the affairs of the city fathers.

"Those men are elected by the citizens," declared Mr. Midgeley, "and the citizens have every right to offer what suggestions they may." In this case the Trades and Labor Council was right and the City Council was wrong, and the least they can do is to give us a civil answer to our inquiries instead of telling us it's none of our business."

He added that the representation made by the Trades Council had been instrumental in having the five workmen in question restored to their jobs. He was supported in this latter statement by a delegate from the Civic Employees' Union, who was of the opinion that the men would have been fired had it not been for the timely protest.

Answer a number of questions concerning the financial condition, all of which he answered fully. In reply to one, he announced that if the $30,000 in delinquent taxes, owed by the Puget Sound Agricultural Association, were not paid at the end of this year, the land would go up for tax sale.

Major Warder reviewed the expenses of the school board. Every effort had been made to cut down and comply with the council's request for economy, he stated, and consequently the School Board's budget had been the lowest since 1924. The trustees were absolutely unable to make further reductions without seriously harming the school work.

Major Warder did not favor the abolition of the home economics and manual training classes as had been suggested to the board. These classes, he felt, were necessary to the school curriculum and should be retained as long as possible.

R. J. Wood presided, and Capt. R. P. Matheson moved a vote of thanks to the Reeve and School Board chairman, noting that it indicated earnest endeavor when the municipal officials were willing to come out during the year and review their work as fully as had been done by the two speakers.

IRRIGATIONISTS WILL BE HELPED

Provincial Government Has Plan to Give Relief on Payments Due

A plan to authorize the debt in each irrigation district of British Columbia on a thirty-year basis with sinking fund and interest charges combined, not to exceed 7.2 per cent annually, will be recommended to the provincial government by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Lands.

The outstanding loans made by the government to the districts amount to $2,977,098. A writing down of the capital sum is proposed in some districts.

Mr. Loughheed has just returned from a tour of the districts, and will present his recommendations to the cabinet immediately. A separate hearing was held in each district and representatives of the irrigation boards presented their case to the minister.

It is anticipated the government will grant to the irrigation districts this year the same relief that has been granted to dyking districts where all but maintenance and repair costs have been postponed.

There may be suggested provision for assistance in respect to the thirty-year consolidation plan, under which in years of distress the districts could postpone payments to the end of the authorized table, adding to the life of the agreement to that extent, with leave to do this remaining in the hands of the province.

UNEMPLOYED SUPPORTED

Trades and Labor Council Endorses Protests Against Relief Cuts

Protests by the unemployed council of Victoria against the $2.30 reduction made in the relief allowance of the city, and the recent cuts in relief contributions announced by the provincial and federal governments, were unanimously supported by the Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening. The council also backed the mass demonstration against the city's cut, which the unemployed will hold to-morrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock at the corner of Pandora and Blanshard Streets.

The Trades Council's support in this connection was enlisted by a representative of the unemployed who explained that action towards cutting relief allowances also reflected on the wages being earned by employed men, having a tendency to lower them.

The reduction in the city allowance was effected recently in conjunction with the lowering of the government's contributions towards relief expenditures. The scale of cuts was based on $2.50 taken from the amount provided for a married couple. Little comment was made on the question of protesting the action by the governments, the motion passing without dissent.

8,000 AT WORK

Payrolls Increased From 369,000 Workers to 377,000 in Three Months

Canadian factories in three months have added 8,000 workers to their payrolls, according to figures received from Ottawa today. The return compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are based on 4,990 factories furnishing monthly employment data.

The aggregate number on their payrolls increased from some 369,000 persons on January 1, 1933, to nearly 377,000 at the beginning of April. The leather, lumber, textile, chemical and iron and steel industries have shown uninterrupted advances in the number of their employees since the beginning of the year, and some other manufacturing groups have also reported improvement during part of this period.

To particularize, it may be stated that the number of persons added to the staffs of the co-operating leather firms was approximately 1,700, most of whom are employed in boot and shoe plants. In the lumber group, some 700 additional employees were added, between January 1 and April 1, mainly in rough lumber mills. In the same period, textile manufacturers enlarged their staffs by approximately 2,700 persons, largely in garment factories. Again, the employees added to the payrolls of iron and steel plants in the first quarter of the year numbered nearly 5,300. In the land vehicle division of this group there has been a steady gain since November 1, 1932, over 8,800 workers having been taken on by the vehicle manufacturers in the last five months.

Musical Art Closes Busy Season With Request Recital

High Musical Standard Splendidly Maintained at Shrine Hall Yesterday

Request programmes are always interesting in that they reflect popular appeal, and the programme of this nature, given at the closing recital of the Victoria Musical Art Society at the Shrine auditorium yesterday afternoon, was as might be expected, fully up to the high standard one associates with this energetic and enthusiastic organization.

It was a fitting termination to a most successful season, and both the artists and their numbers were happily selected.

PIANO NUMBERS Groups of piano numbers opened and closed the programme. Brian Burdon-Murphy, the first artist to appear, giving a thoughtful and musically performance of the tenderly beautiful Bach chorale, "Jesu, Man of Heart's Desiring," followed by the Brahms rhapsodie in B minor, A Bach chorale, "Mortify Us By Thy Grace," was also chosen by that well-known and gifted young pianist, Miss Maquinn Daniels, for the opening number of her final group, which also included the colorful "Furries" (Frank Bridge) and Schumann's "Soaring" brilliantly played, her performance so pleasing the audience that she was recalled for an encore.

VOCAL SOLOS Fresh from her recent successes at the Musical Festival, Miss Dorothy Parsons, soprano, was in fine voice for her three delightfully chosen numbers, "Sunday" (Brahms), Coleridge Taylor's sparkling "Big Lady Moon" and the tenderly plaintive "Farewell" (Franz).

In response to well-merited demands for an encore she sang with much charm Stevenson's "Innocence."

Miss Nora Jones revealed the beautiful quality of her voice and the excellence of her diction in her three numbers, the dramatic "How's My Boy?" (Sidney Houser), Landon Ronald's "Down in the Forest" and the characteristically Russian number, "The Sleigh" (Kountze), which evoked enthusiastic applause and the singer's recall, to which she responded with that perennial favorite, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," sung with much feeling.

NEWCOMER ACCLAIMED Mrs. Jack Barracough, the third of the trio of vocal soloists, is the possession of a voice of much power and beauty which was heard to advantage in Campbell-Tipton's lovely song, "A Spirit Flower," and Frank Waller's "Her Dream," recalled by the audience. Mrs. Barracough sang the philosophic "Can't Remember," most pleasingly. A comparative newcomer to Victoria, Mrs. Barracough has already established herself as a singer of pleasing personality and excellent equipment.

Miss Isabel Crawford and Frank Tupper contributed a vocal duet, "We Gay and Painted Fair," from Haydn's "The Seasons," their voices blending with artistic effect.

A colorful addition to the programme was the Spanish cape dance by Miss Violet Powles, who gave a very finished and graceful exposition of this spirited dance of Spain in a picturesque costume of black lined with scarlet.

The role of accompanist to the various numbers was ably shared by Mrs. C. E. McNeill, Miss Olive Campbell, Miss Maquinn Daniels and Edward Parsons.

TAXPAYER TO GET BENEFIT

Courtenay, With Paying Municipal Utility, Moves to Lower Power Rates

Special to The Times

Courtenay, May 18.—A move to lower light and power rates in Courtenay with a view to attracting industry was made at the meeting of the city council Monday evening.

C. S. Wood, city electrical superintendent, tabled a report through the chairman of the electric light committee, showing a steady increase in profits and decrease in cost of operation which has prevailed since the commencement of the municipal-owned utility. He advocated a return of profits to the taxpayer in reduced rates.

At the close of the meeting the council went into committee of the whole to discuss the report.

An invitation from Mayor Warnock of Port Alberni to attend the upper island school sports there on Wednesday was acknowledged.

Announcement of the visit of H.M. S.C. Vancouver, May 29, was made by the Department of Militia and Defence. The usual welcome will be extended.

Alderman Wallis, for the parks board, reported the formation of a bowling club, and outlined plans whereby the bowling green, through its rental by the club from the city, would be self-sustaining. Much controversy attended the inclusion of a bowling green in Lewis Park.

Mr. Haggarty, organizer of the Junior Baseball League, asked permission to bring in promoters of whippet racing. He proposed to put on races at Lewis Park on Sunday for the benefit of sports funds. The council refused to sanction it.

Relief has been discontinued for single men in Courtenay, and to offset any hardship and encourage the unemployed to search for work, Mayor Simms suggested that a rate of $5 a day be fixed, of which the employer would pay $1 and the city would be responsible for the remaining $4, to be obtained from the government. Only unemployed listed with the city would be eligible for this scheme.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

A SUGGESTION

Family circumstances will this year make it difficult or impossible for many boys to attend a summer camp, the dream of every normal Canadian boy.

The alternative is knocking around town all summer, with perhaps a ranking grievance against things in general added to the ordinary opportunities for mischief.

Here is a field in which service clubs and other organizations may be able to help importantly, and not in a financial way only. In attics and cellars there may be tents which can be loaned. There may be hunting and fishing cabins, and unused summer cottages which could be placed at the disposal of groups of boys under dependable leaders.

Special camp fund entertainments could be given by musical and dramatic societies. A number of these were put on here and there during the past winter for the benefit of Boy Scout troops.

TROPHY FOR BIRD HOUSES

The Department of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia has offered for Boy Scout competition a silver trophy, to be awarded the scout troop having the largest number of occupied bird houses to its credit during 1933, sparrows excepted.

SCOUTS FRATERNISE

Unsettled conditions in Germany did not disturb the Easter tour plans of Kent (England) Scouts. The tour included Nurnberg, Munich, the Garminsh Mountains, Ettal and Oberammergau. At all of these places they were met by German Scouts, and at Munich and Ettal took part in Scout rallies. Kent County Scouts each year tour some part of the continent.

SERVICE AT PEACE PORTAL

Clergy of various denominations and Canadian and United States Boy Scouts took part in the third annual International Easter Sunrise Service at "Peace Portal" on the border between Washington State and British Columbia.

KIDDIES ASSURED TOYS

Twenty per cent of the receipts of the big Montreal Boy Scout spring display was earmarked for paying postage on Christmas on Scout Christmas Toy Shop parcels to the children of needy settlers in the prairie provinces.

MODERN ADVENTURES

Ghosts of Captain Kid and other roving adventures of the Spanish Main must have pulled their beads and shivered their timbers in amazement at the recent spectacle at Port of Spain, Trinidad, of modern boyhood adventures having the time of their lives without scuttling a ship or walking a single victim off a plank. The occasion was a week's Jamboree of Boy Scouts of the various islands of the British West Indies and British Guiana, celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of Scouting in Trinidad.

There's a greater sense of safety and dependability in traffic when you are driving with Imperial 3-Star.

IMAGINE you are driving north in car "X". You are approaching intersection where green light indicates right of way for north-south bound traffic. Street Car "A" is loading passengers from Safety Zone "C". Consider:

- What should you do?
- If there were no Safety Zone, what should you do?
- Desiring to make "U" turn and park at Spot "D", what does the law allow you to do under these circumstances?

How well do you know your "Safety Zones" regulations? Correct answers on page 15

GERMAN FINANCE RIVALS TO MEET

Schacht and Luther, Alternate Reichsbank Heads, to Face Each Other in Washington

Berlin, May 18.—Up Hjalmar, down Hans. Up Hjalmar, down Hans. It is a queer see-saw game that has been played around the Reichsbank, the great bank of issue in Germany, by Dr. Hans Luther and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, famed financiers who now are destined to join hands in Washington in the common cause of making a pen the "new Germany" in the world's economic sun.

SUCCEEDED EACH OTHER IN REICHSBANK
Dr. Luther, as the recently arrived German Ambassador to the United States, and Dr. Schacht are scheduled to meet again in May when the latter goes to America as the Reich's delegate to the White House economic discussions. With clock-like regularity they have succeeded each other as head of the great state bank, which largely determines the financial policies of German governments. They have written their story largely on the pages of Germany's post war financial history. Inflation, deflation—they were right there. They were active when it cost a billion marks to buy a ham sandwich. They were just as active when that same sandwich cost a fraction of a mark.

AMBAADORSHIP—"CONSOLATION PRIZE"

Recently Schacht again edged Luther out of the bank and the latter got what was regarded here as the consolation prize of ambassadorship to the United States. It is not that the Nazis love Luther. As a matter of fact, many dislike him. But one of the one of their stripe might not be popular or successful in America, so they sent Luther, because he knows many of the bankers and lesser business men of the United States, talks English well and will be thoroughly capable of speaking for Germany in all the things that are going to be upmost in the next few years—the war debts and reparations tangle, and same finance. Life did a funny thing to Luther and Schacht. Out of the 65,000,000 Germans, to choose two to be constantly thrown together, either in team-work or in fierce opposition. The one can never tell the other down. Luther is fifty-five, Schacht fifty-five. Both are of the dour, grim, extremely able type of German official. But after that they differ. Luther specialized at the university in municipal government. Schacht studied finance and economics. Luther in politics became a moderate liberal, with a view that Germany's best future lay in agreement with France. Schacht became an ardent nationalist, who looked upon France as the enemy. For long he has been a friend of Hitler.

LUTHER WAS ESSEN'S PROTECTOR IN WAR

Luther, after his college days, at once entered the German municipal service. By 1918 he had been given the important post of Mayor of Essen, the great manufacturing city in the Ruhr. That section was filled with dynamite, due to the savagery of the French, between the bosses and the workmen. There was all the material for a huge explosion, but the clever Luther kept Essen free from serious trouble. He became a market out for big things. Soon he was Food Minister. Then in 1923 he became Finance Minister. The country was in the depths of inflation. The mark was not worth the paper on which it was printed. Luther named Schacht as Commissioner of Currency Reform. Together they battled through, deflating the mark, put it on a solid gold basis, made it more valuable in the world market than the proud English pound sterling.

SERVED AS CHANCELLOR IN TWO REGIMES

In 1925 there was another kind of trouble. Governments in Social Democratic had largely predominated, had failed. Fritz Ebert, the little saddler Socialist, was in the saddle as President of the Reich. He who had so largely saved Germany from Bolshevism, whose name is now desecrated by the Nazis, named Luther as Chancellor to head a non-party government. Prior to that Luther had been one of the German delegates to the London Conference of 1924 which led to the signature of the Dawes plan—an American invention for the healing of European troubles. At that time Luther named the great Stresemann as Foreign Minister and together they put their signatures to the Locarno pact, which aimed at bringing Europe and Germany into closer and friendlier relations. His government fell after a year. He was made Chancellor again in 1926, but fell after five months, owing to fierce fights of the reactionaries against the use of the republican flag—black-red-gold.

SCHACHT, ASTUTE FINANCIER, HARD FIGHTER

Schacht was also forging to the top. He showed himself so astute a financier that by the time he was thirty-seven he had been made one of the directors of the great Dresdener Bank. At forty-five he was Currency Commissioner and with Luther deflated the German mark. In 1925 he was made head of the Reichsbank and held on until 1930. He was savagely independent. He fought his own government and usually won. In 1929 the government was about to borrow $110,000,000 in the United States. Schacht forbade it. The government yielded. He waged war on Dr. Hilferding, Socialist Minister of Finance, and that individual lost his post.

CARRIED INTO POWER ON NAZI WAVE

Then he over-reached himself. He opposed the government's signing the Young Plan—another American invention to settle reparations problems. So in 1930 he was ousted and Luther was unanimously chosen to succeed him. Ever after that Schacht was a savage critic of his one-time friend. At a big Nazi-Nationalist meeting he bitterly criticized Luther's financial policies. When Hitler and his Nazis recently came into power it was known Luther would have shifted. Hitler wanted the job for Schacht and got it.

is in a worse position than any of those countries.

From Perth to Sydney there is a feeling of reviving confidence. In Sydney a much saner outlook has developed since the country had itself of the extreme socialist incubus. The Commonwealth budget under review shows an anticipated surplus with tax remissions. Whatever their domestic troubles may be there is a unanimous allegiance to the British connection. In New Zealand the country has made almost 100 per cent response to its government's appeal for the conversion of the internal national debt of £115,000,000 at a lower rate of interest on the lines of the United Kingdom's loan conversion scheme of last year.

South Africa has formed a Coalition Government and the country is booming. Has Canada thought of doing something similar? The Minister of Finance, Mr. Hargrave, of Dutch origin, although until last December an adherent to the gold standard principle, recently made the statement, since South Africa went "off" gold, that the Union Government of South Africa would follow Great Britain in whatever currency it adopted. South Africa's trade with the United Kingdom speaks for itself. While I am quoting South African statements, may I remind you that Smuts told you here a few years ago that the British Empire was the finest League of Nations and could not be surpassed. It seems to need men of foreign origin to remind some of us of our duty to our empire!

In view of these facts, if I were asked to give my reasons for the healthier position of the other Dominions, I should have no hesitation in attributing this to their pinning their faith to, and following the principles of the tried methods of the Imperial Government.

Canada's worse and unenviable position I should ascribe to its being unable to make up its mind whether to become a free partner in the empire, or to eventually come under the complete domination of the United States, thus weakening its own position in the empire link.

The influence of the United States in Canadian affairs and the monopoly of news from over the border in the newspapers, even in Victoria, are irritating to one whose interests are primarily empire.

One hears much on this side about England building up a liquidation fund on reserve of £150,000,000, and the decision to increase this to £350,000,000, which is talked of as manipulation of exchange by England—scarcely a compliment to Great Britain's power and influence that she is able to manipulate the money markets of the world with a reserve seven times smaller than the actual gold hoarded by the United States—equal to £1,000,000,000 (sterling).

Tariffs are the real secret of world chaos, in the raising of which the United States has been the greatest offender. Yet to-day she is frantically seeking to reduce tariffs, a process England has been engaged in, following her free trade policy, for fifty years, a policy in which British well-being has been ruined itself and the empire by pursuing a principle ignored by foreign countries and used by them to Great Britain's disadvantage.

There is much more that could be said on exchange and tariff questions, on which one hears so little in Canadian papers, except from the United States viewpoint; while the inflation policy recently advocated by President Roosevelt is one which precedent has always proved to be unsuccessful in the older countries of the world, where experience and history are a more certain guide than in the United States. Will Canada be warned that it is foredoomed to failure?

Germany rattles the sabre, the United States rattles its money-bags, but the real influence in the world is the morality and integrity of a country. Because of these attributes the counsels of Great Britain in world affairs are still the surest influence and will prove the most effective guide to world recovery.

J. MOORE,
C.O. Canadian Bank of Commerce, Victoria, B.C., May 17, 1933.

Brooklyn Dodgers Climb To Threaten National Leaders

Third Straight Victory Boosts
Team From Fifth to Third Position

PITTSBURGH WINS THREE IN A ROW

Washington Noses Out Cleveland to Capture Second Berth in American

Brooklyn Dodgers' climbing department is coming into its own again and they are showing signs of becoming a serious threat to the National League pacesetters.

In three games, the Dodgers have risen from a rather weak fifth in the standing to third place. All three victories were won with "story book" ninth inning rallies of the most exciting order. Yesterday they put over three runs in the startling last frame rally for a 5 to 2 triumph that moved them into third place and shoved St. Louis Cardinals down into a tie for fourth with Cincinnati.

The Reds dropped back into the tie with the Cards when Ed Brandt pitched the Boston Braves to an 8 to 0 victory.

Pittsburgh won its third straight from the Phillies, 6 to 4, as Hal Smith turned in a great relief pitching job
after Larry French had been blasted from the hill. The second place New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs were idle, preparing for a doubleheader to-day.

SENATORS SECOND
The Washington-Cleveland battle for second place again furnished the excitement for the American League.
The Senators copped the coveted place with a 3 to 2 victory, pounding Wes Ferrell effectively. New York Yankees retained their slender lead with a 4 to 1 victory over Detroit Tigers.

Chicago White Sox blasted Rube
Walberg and walloped the Philadelphia
Athletics 5 to 2.

The not-so-humble Boston Red Sox paced by Dale Alexander, cut loose against St. Louis Browns and won 7 to 3 for George Piggas, who made his first start for Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Pittsburgh, May 18. — Pittsburgh

attack in the early innings, and de-

Enid Wilson Takes British Golf Title

Defeats Diana Plumpton 5 and 4 to Capture Third Successive Championship

Champion 3 Up at End of
First Eighteen; Runner-up
Dark Horse of Tourney

Glenelg, Scotland, May 18.—
Enid Wilson to-day won the British women's open golf championship for the third successive year.
She defeated Miss Diana Plumpton,
5 and 4, in the thirty-six-hole final, displaying fine control and a confidence that could not be denied. Miss Plumpton yesterday put out Diana Fishwick, former champion and British women's native champion.

Only by two other women has the women's golfing crown of Great Britain been won for three successive years.
Miss Cecile Leitch and Lady Margaret
Scott both attained that honor.

To-day's play was followed by a huge crowd that seemed of mixed mind whether to cheer the champion on to a third successive victory or lend a hand to the dark-haired Miss Plumpton from Princeton-on-Sea, who had proved the dark horse of the tourney.

Miss Plumpton had eliminated the other two major contenders, Miss Fish-wick and Maud Morgan, former British women's closed champion.

Both women played careful golf and at the tenth were all even.
The champion's superior experience, however, gave her a lead of three at the eighteenth hole. Miss Plumpton clung to her chances bravely in the second round but was unable to hold the champion who won out on the fourteenth hole, 5 up.

AND HE HOPED TO
"Save the Brush"

Kansas City, May 18.—Redjacketed members of the Thomas Jefferson Hunt Club rode furiously up to the "kill." L. C. Johnson, director of the Kansas City fire department and master of hounds, dismounted to "save the brush."
He ran up to the pack of hounds—and backed rapidly away. A cleaning establishment refused his riding habit, suggesting he bury it for two weeks.

WALTON WINS WALKING RACE

Eighteen-year-old Vancoverite Captures Provincial Toe and Heel Honors

Vancouver, May 18.—Eighteen-year-old Norman Walton yesterday won the walking championship of British Columbia with a clean-cut victory in the eleven-mile hike, sponsored by The Vancouver Sun. His time was one hour, twenty-seven minutes and twenty-five seconds, three minutes behind the record set last year by John Towers, now of Edmonton.

Howard Robinson finished second to Walton in 1:29.4, with Mike Pasternak third, and Dave Walton, a former champion, fourth. Duncan Williams of Victoria, who finished second last year, was disqualified for running early in the race.

More than 200 started in the various classes, including races for boys, young women, middle-aged women, middle-aged men and veterans. Nearly 100 starred the championship event, and thousands of people lined the streets along the route. Heavy rain during the race made the going slippery, and slowed up the contestants.

Other results — Boys: Fred Barry,
1:30.30; women, Margaret Gale, 1:44;
men, forty to sixty-five, Walter Mason,
1:39; women, over forty, Mrs. Jessie Duck, 1:54.40; veterans, over sixty-five,
H. T. Skelly, 1:57.40.

Western Fighters Take Lion's Share Of National Crowns

Lift Nine Out of Fifteen Championships in Finals of Winnipeg Tournament

JACKIE CALURA "FINEST FIGHTER"

Is Awarded Diamond Gloves
Trophy; Eastern Wrestlers
Have Small Margin

Winnipeg, May 18.—A punch-weary west rested today possessors of the major share of honors in a two-night carnival of amateur boxing and wrestling. Turning back one of the strongest eastern threats in the history of the Dominion championships, athletes from western Canada an-nexed nine championships out of fifteen competed for in the annual tourney which closed yesterday evening.

Leg by the brilliant Jackie Calura,
Hamilton, Canadian flyweight champion and Golden Gloves winner, who captured the bantamweight class, eastern boxers carried off honors in two divisions. Bill Maatch, hard-biting flyweight, won an easy victory over Tony Evans, Minnesota.
Evans was knocked out in the first round.

Feather honors in the flyweight,
featherweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight and light-heavyweight classes fell to the prowess of western boxers. Tommy Hall, Winnipeg and Manitoba champion, defeated Leo Stroppa, a climber, to win the flyweight title. The featherweight crown was won by Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, who eliminated Eddie Carroll, eastern threat from Ottawa.

WINNIPEG BOXERS STAB
Winnipeg boxers captured three heavier crowns in the boxing division.
Paul Frederickson, Winnipeg, former littleschooler, defeated Maurice Camyre, Winnipeg, to win the lightweight crown, while Stanley Evans, Prince George, defeated Ted Keating, eastern fighter, to win the middleweight crown, and Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, defeated Leo Stroppa, eastern threat from Ottawa, to win the light-heavyweight crown.

Defeat of Vince Barrie, favorite to capture the welterweight crown, in his final with Stanley Evans and the elimination of Harvey Platt, Kitchener, in the lightweight semi-final proved upsets of the tourney. Barrie appeared to have his bout well in hand. The judges voted resulted in a draw with the referee casting the deciding vote.
Platt fell a victim to the hard-punching Camyre in another thrilling three-rounder.

Easterners took consolation in the fact that one of their team, Jackie Calura, was awarded the Dominion diamond gloves trophy, emblematic of "Canada's finest fighter." Calura turned in a stellar exhibition to win
the coveted award.

Of the seven wrestling crowns at stake, four went east. Toronto aspira-nts captured the flyweight and middleweight titles, and Kitchener entries took the bantamweight and lightweight crowns.

Verne Pettigrew, fast Regina featherweight, is the proud wearer of the featherweight crown, while husky Jimmy Lytle, also of Regina, won the heavyweight title. Alex Skene, Branford, is the new welterweight champion.

The new champions follow:
WRESTLING
Flyweight—Bob Lawrie, Toronto, defeated J. Carig, Winnipeg, final.
Bantamweight—Brook Utley, Kitchener, Ont., defeated Bill Ketcheson,
Winnipeg, final.

Heavyweight—James Lytle, Regina, defeated Lou Wetland, final.
Lightweight—Charlie Vanaudenarde,
Kitchener, Ont., defeated B. Johnson,
Winnipeg, final.

Middleweight—Terry Evans, Toronto, defeated Chris Siller, Regina, final.

BOXING
Flyweight—Tommy Hall, Winnipeg, defeated Leo Stroppa, Winnipeg, final.
Middleweight—Frank Walcott, Winnipeg, defeated Ray Milton, Port Arthur, final.

Light-heavyweight—Ted Keating, Winnipeg, defeated Bill Bagley, Winnipeg, final.
Bantamweight—Jackie Calura, Hamilton, defeated Emmanuel Battaglia,
Winnipeg, final.

Featherweight—Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, defeated Eddie Carroll,
Ottawa, final.
Heavyweight—Bill Melich, Brantford, defeated Tony Evans, Minnesota, Man., final.

Lightweight—Paul Frederickson,

SPENCERS VICTORS IN FOOTBALL FINAL

Chapman like hawks and the rangy centre had no chance to get through.
Late in the second half the teams stepped up their soccer and the game improved. Brown put in a nice corner but his effort was not converted.
Chapman skinned the bar on a pass from Brown and the squads resumed end-to-end kick and rush plays.

Spencer ran out to the penalty area
when the Navy forwards caught Spencers backs napping and prevented a possible score.

WINNING GOAL
On the next play, Chapman secured deep in the Navy ground and passed out to Bradley, who came in from the wing and drove his game winning tally into the Navy hump.

The blue-jackets came back on a concentrated offensive and several times were within an ace of making their efforts count. They forced three corners in quick succession but nothing came of them.

Near the close Red McMillan went down checking Walker as he came in for a shot. The Navy man fell, hurting his leg. He was carried from the field and the game ended shortly after with no further score.

A Johnson refereed and the teams
lined up as follows:
Navy—Barker, Robert, White, Ben-
nelack, Roberts, Dovey, Wilson, Marr, McDonald, More and Walker.

Spencers—D. Bissell, B. Clark, R.
McMillan, Dick Bradley, D. Monroe,
Lloyd Cann, Bob Brown, G. Preston,
Art Chapman, C. Luxton and Les Bradley.

MORE HORSES ARRIVE HERE

Five Thoroughbreds of Mrs.
A. L. McLennan Are Unloaded at the Willows

Many Additional Bang-tails
Coming From Mainland;
Nearly 100 Head Now Here

Horses from the mainland are preparing to invade Victoria for the opening of the racing season at the Willows next Wednesday, and over the week-end at least thirty head will be shipped from Vancouver. The advance guard of the mainland contingent checked in at the race track to-day when
Mrs. A. L. McLennan's Riverview
Stable was unloaded.

The popular blue and gold silks of the Vancouver sportswoman will be strongly represented at the forthcoming meeting with an all-Canadian stable. Five thoroughbreds were shipped and each one of them is well known in this city.

Major Somers headed the list but the others are equally as well known.
They are: Gene Marc, Ginny Mine,
Good Measure and Grand March.

Mrs. McLennan led all the last owners in winning races at the last Willows meeting and is quite optimistic concerning the outlook for her stable this summer.

All told approximately 150 thoroughbreds will be available for the opening meeting. Close to 100 are already stabled at the track and with the Vancouver contingent preparing to invade the track this number will be increased considerably.

offered a bout well worth watching

In the heavyweight division, L.
P. "Sonny" Buxton, whose dynamic laden fists carried him to the city championship in two knockout victories, will stack up against Erub Bowles, fighting for the Y.M.C.A. The association man is reported to be in fine condition, and should put up a good battle
in the main attraction.

The Reason for Safety Zones

Answers to Traffic Situation No. 1
(Illustrated on Page 9)

(a) At any street intersection equipped with traffic control signals and street car Safety Zones, motor traffic and pedestrians may move when green light shows. Motor traffic may proceed between Safety Zone and adjacent curb at a speed not more than ten miles per hour.

(b) Where there are no Safety Zones all motor traffic must stop at least ten feet behind the exit of any street car stopped to discharge or take on passengers.

(c) It is unlawful to make a "U" turn at any intersection at which traffic control signals are operating. Therefore car "X" must proceed north to first intersection where there is no traffic signal, turn and come back to "D".

This series is offered to the motoring public as a friendly contribution to the safety of drivers and pedestrians everywhere in British Columbia.
Answers are based either on Provincial Motor Vehicle Act regulations or, where they so apply, on City bylaws. In some instances, local bylaws may differ slightly from the above, but the principles governing safe driving apply equally in crowded thoroughfares and to all highways serving the less populated districts.

Fifteen Sailors Who Reached
Vancouver By Ss. Canadian Importer Ask For Help

Vancouver, May 18.—Fifteen stranded sailors, part of the crew of Ss. Canadian, recently sold to Japanese interests, from Halifax to Vancouver, made a personal appeal to Mayor Louis D. Taylor yesterday.

The men explained that they signed on at Halifax and arrived in Vancouver a few days ago. Officers and engineers who were in charge of the vessel have returned east, their fares being paid by the Japanese firm which brought the ship out.

The new owners, represented by the Yamashita Shipping Co., refuse to pay the return fares of the deck and engine-room crews, with the result that the men are "stranded" in Vancouver.

Most of the fifteen are married men with homes in Halifax, it is stated. They earned from $35 to $50 each on their westbound voyage and they could not pay railroad fares home even if they wished to.

It was stated that the men may become relief charges, and the mayor referred the matter to the relief department, which is communicating with provincial relief officials.

Victoria Ships Much Lumber This Week to Orient and England

Cape of Good Hope, Sethonia and Silveray at Ogden Point Piers To-day

C.N.R. Brings Lumber Here On Flat Cars

Other Ships Keep Docks Busy; Passengers From Australia and California

Victoria is taking no small part this week in the general improvement in the northwest lumber movement, and to-day there are three freighters at the Ogden Point piers loading cargoes of Vancouver Island timber for the United Kingdom and eastern Canadian ports. Yesterday a freighter left Victoria with a capacity cargo for Shanghai. The total shipment of lumber from Victoria this week amounts to 3,782,000 feet, all supplied by mills on Vancouver Island.

The Ss. Sethonia arrived yesterday morning and is taking 680,000 feet for the United Kingdom. The Ss. Cape of Good Hope reached port yesterday evening at 6 o'clock and is loading 672,000 feet, also for the United Kingdom, and the Ss. Silveray docked shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday evening and is loading 680,000 feet for Montreal and Quebec. The total of these shipments amount to 1,982,000 feet.

Yesterday morning the Ss. Cape Horn cleared the Ogden Point piers for the Orient, laden with 5,000,000 feet of British Columbia timber, 1,800,000 feet of which were loaded at Victoria.

All this lumber is being loaded aboard the freighters from flat cars which brought the timber from up-land mills over Canadian National lines. The Ogden Point piers present a busy scene to-day with the three ships and cars shuttling back and forth. A large number of men are being given employment.

All three ships will leave to-morrow. Making one of her smartest voyages in recent years, the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara was expected at William Head this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on her way to Victoria from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu. She will dock several of the passengers to take the Ss. Princess Alice for Seattle at 4.30 o'clock. There are 200 passengers aboard the liner, including many en route to England. They will cross Canada and board the liner Empress of Britain at Quebec, sailing for Southampton and Cherbourg May 27.

With passengers and cargo for Victoria, the Ss. Dorothy Alexander, of the Pacific Steamship Lines, is due at the Rithet pier this evening at 7 o'clock, according to a wireless message received this morning from the captain of the liner. The Dorothy will remain here until midnight before sailing for Seattle.

There were 100 tons of general cargo for Victoria aboard the Donatella, freighter Grace, which docked at the Rithet pier this morning at 7.30 o'clock from the United Kingdom, by way of the Panama Canal and California ports. The vessel proceeded at noon to Vancouver.

The German motorship Vancouver docked at Rithet piers yesterday evening at 5.30 o'clock on her first call at this port. She had a cargo of bananas from Central America for discharge here. Several tourist passengers from southern California proceeded with the ship to Vancouver where she sailed at midnight. During the stay of the liner here they took sightseeing drives about Victoria.

Jugo Slav Ship Due For Grain

For a cargo of 8,000 tons of grain, the Jugo Slavian freighter Avila is due here next Thursday at the Ogden Point piers, according to word received in Victoria this morning from Vancouver. This will be the third parcel of grain to be dispatched from Victoria this season.

The Avila is now inbound from the Orient. It has not yet been stated where her cargo of local grain is for.

Jugo Slavian residents of Vancouver had been planning a welcome for the Avila and her crew, as she is the first ship of her nation to come to British Columbia. It is now possible several representatives of Jugo Slavia may come to Victoria from Vancouver next week as the freighter will call only at Victoria while on the coast.

NO BLAME FOR AKRON MISHAP

Naval Chief Says Great Airship Handled to Full Limit of Present Knowledge

Washington, May 18.—The highest naval officials of the United States quickly disputed to-day the finding of a navy court of inquiry that an "error in judgment" by the commanding officer of the Akron was a "contributory cause" of the great airship disaster. In its final report the court held that Commander Frank G. McCord, in his terrific but futile battle against the elements, had erred in not steering the giant ship away from ominous flashes of lightning.

Disagreement with the opinion that McCord had erred was expressed by Admiral William V. K. Pratt, chief of naval operations, in a statement approved by Secretary of the Navy Swanson. He said this conclusion was based "almost entirely, if not solely, on the light of subsequent events," and added:

"The Akron was ably built and unquestionably ably handled to the full limit of present knowledge and experience in rigid airship operation."

PLANS ANOTHER WORLD FLIGHT

Wiley Post, Present Holder of World Record, Plans to Take Off Again July 1

Oklahoma City, May 18.—Wiley Post, holder of the round-the-world flight record, announced yesterday he would attempt to make a direct non-stop flight to lower the mark. The flight, Post said, will be made in the Winnie Mae, in which he and Harold Gatty flew around the globe in eight days, fifteen hours and one minute in June, 1931. The plane will carry a new motor, "I am simply going out to set a new record, my personal ambition," was Post's only comment. "I will have no backer, no manager and no partners."

Instead of a human companion, Post will be aided by a robot, which he has been testing for several weeks. Post expects the robot to relieve him of much of the work of flying, leaving him free to navigate and rest.

Under plans announced, the route would be much the same as that followed by Post and Gatty. Post would leave from New York with the intention of making a direct non-stop 3,900-mile flight to Berlin. He then would make a 4,300-mile jump over Russia, which probably would be broken at 2,600 miles for refueling. From Russia he plans to fly 2,200 miles over water and ice to Fairbanks, Alaska, then 1,450 miles to Edmonton, and 2,100 miles back to New York.

The rebuilt plane will have a cruising speed of about 170 miles an hour and top speed of 225 miles an hour.

FISH BOATS ON STRIKE STILL

Some Fishermen in Columbia River, However, Return When Salmon Prices Raised

Astoria, Ore., May 18.—Determination that the strike of lower river fishermen will continue despite the return of about 200 boats to the mid-Columbia River drifts was expressed at headquarters of the Fishermen's Protective Union here yesterday.

The mid-river gill netters returned to work Tuesday evening when packers met their demand for a price of 7 cents a pound for Chinook salmon. Previously the packers had offered 6½ cents. The nearly 4,000 Oregon and Washington gill netters, still on strike, are demanding 8 cents.

Avid Mattson, secretary of the Fishermen's Union here, declared the Rainier, Ore., meeting at which the river compromise was effected yesterday was inspired by the packers, who "had their fishermen picked to attend and knew the result before it started." The union secretary claimed that despite the return of the 200 boats in the Rainier district the "strike movement is holding firm along the entire river." Packers said, however, the Rainier meeting had been "very successful," and indicated up-river fishermen were "eager to quit the strike."

They expressed willingness to hold a compromise meeting with any group of lower river fishermen "not connected with Mattson or his gang." Strikers are planning to establish eight receiving stations between Vancouver and Longview, Wash., where they will sell fish for home canning and immediate consumption. Charles Knapp of Ridgefield, Wash., who said he represents a group of striking up-river fishermen, announced to-day the river compromise was effected yesterday was inspired by the packers, who "had their fishermen picked to attend and knew the result before it started." The union secretary claimed that despite the return of the 200 boats in the Rainier district the "strike movement is holding firm along the entire river." Packers said, however, the Rainier meeting had been "very successful," and indicated up-river fishermen were "eager to quit the strike."

Knapp said he planned to hold a meeting of fishermen at an unnamed location to "consolidate" sentiment of the up-river strikers.

First book printed in America was the "Escala Espiritual de San Juan Climaco"; no copies are known to be in existence.

Musician's Plane Twice Forced Down

Edmonton, May 18.—Having been twice forced down by fog at Huxley and Vulcan, the plane bringing W. R. Anderson of London, England, from Lethbridge to adjudicate in the Edmonton Musical Festival, arrived at the Alberta capital three hours late to-day, just as anxiety over the well-known musician was growing.

The machine piloted by Charles Tweed of Lethbridge, was due here at 7.30 a.m. but did not arrive until 10.16 a.m. Efforts to trace the fliers had commenced, but no word of them had been received when the plane circled down out of an overcast sky to land at the municipal airport here.

Commencement of some competition in the festival was delayed slightly by the late arrival of the adjudicator.
